

From 1979 to today, Bisque has worked to transform the radiator's reputation, from a humble plumbing essential to a truly desirable design piece. And this pioneering mission has led the company to new creations, including the launch of its new colour match service.

The bespoke service already allows you to customise the design to suit your space and style, making them taller, shorter, wider or narrower as required. An additional 5,000 made-to-measure sizes, ensure that the company's most popular collections – including the Classic, Arteplano, Convector and Finn – boast even more versatility, while the options even extend to creating curved or angled options to fit perfectly into bay windows or tricky tight corners.

Already available in over 2000 RAL and NCS colours, Bisque has further extended its range with the new, unique colour match service. This offers the potential to find an exact match to a range of shades, including those from Farrow & Ball and Little Greene, alongside printed wallpapers and kitchen cabinetry.

With these versatile aspects, it is no wonder that Bisque has been voted one of the nation's CoolBrands for three consecutive years.
