

Companies reducing their impact on the planet

The Directory

#DoLessHarm

MadAboutTheHouse.com

Bisque

Bisque offers an eco-friendly Aluminium range. Each radiator is made from what is essentially old coke cans. Aluminium as a material is incredibly energy efficient – it can heat up and cool down far quicker than a traditional radiator (in around 15 minutes) – making it great for kitchens where there are often quick changes in temperatures. It also allows for a far slimmer profile, is more lightweight, and uses less water.

MAD ABOUT THE HOUSE